Claim 7 (currently amended): ~~The reader/writer according to Claim 6, wherein A~~ reader/writer comprising:

an antenna substrate provided with a loop antenna; and a control substrate provided with a coil and with a transmitting/receiving circuit;

wherein

a magnetic coupling between the coil and the loop antenna causes the loop antenna and the transmitting/receiving circuit to be electromagnetically connected to each other; and a magnetic ~~body sheet~~ is arranged on a surface of the antenna substrate facing the control substrate, and the coil and the loop antenna are magnetically coupled through a space defined by the magnetic ~~body sheet~~.

Claim 8 (currently amended): The reader/writer according to Claim-6 7, wherein the coil provided on the control substrate is positioned inside an inner portion of the loop antenna and adjacent to the inner portion of the loop antenna.

Claim 9 (currently amended): The reader/writer according to Claim-6 7, wherein the antenna substrate is provided with an opening inside the loop antenna and an upper portion of the coil is disposed to extend through the opening.
